Who does the IRS team help?

Short answer:

just about everybody!

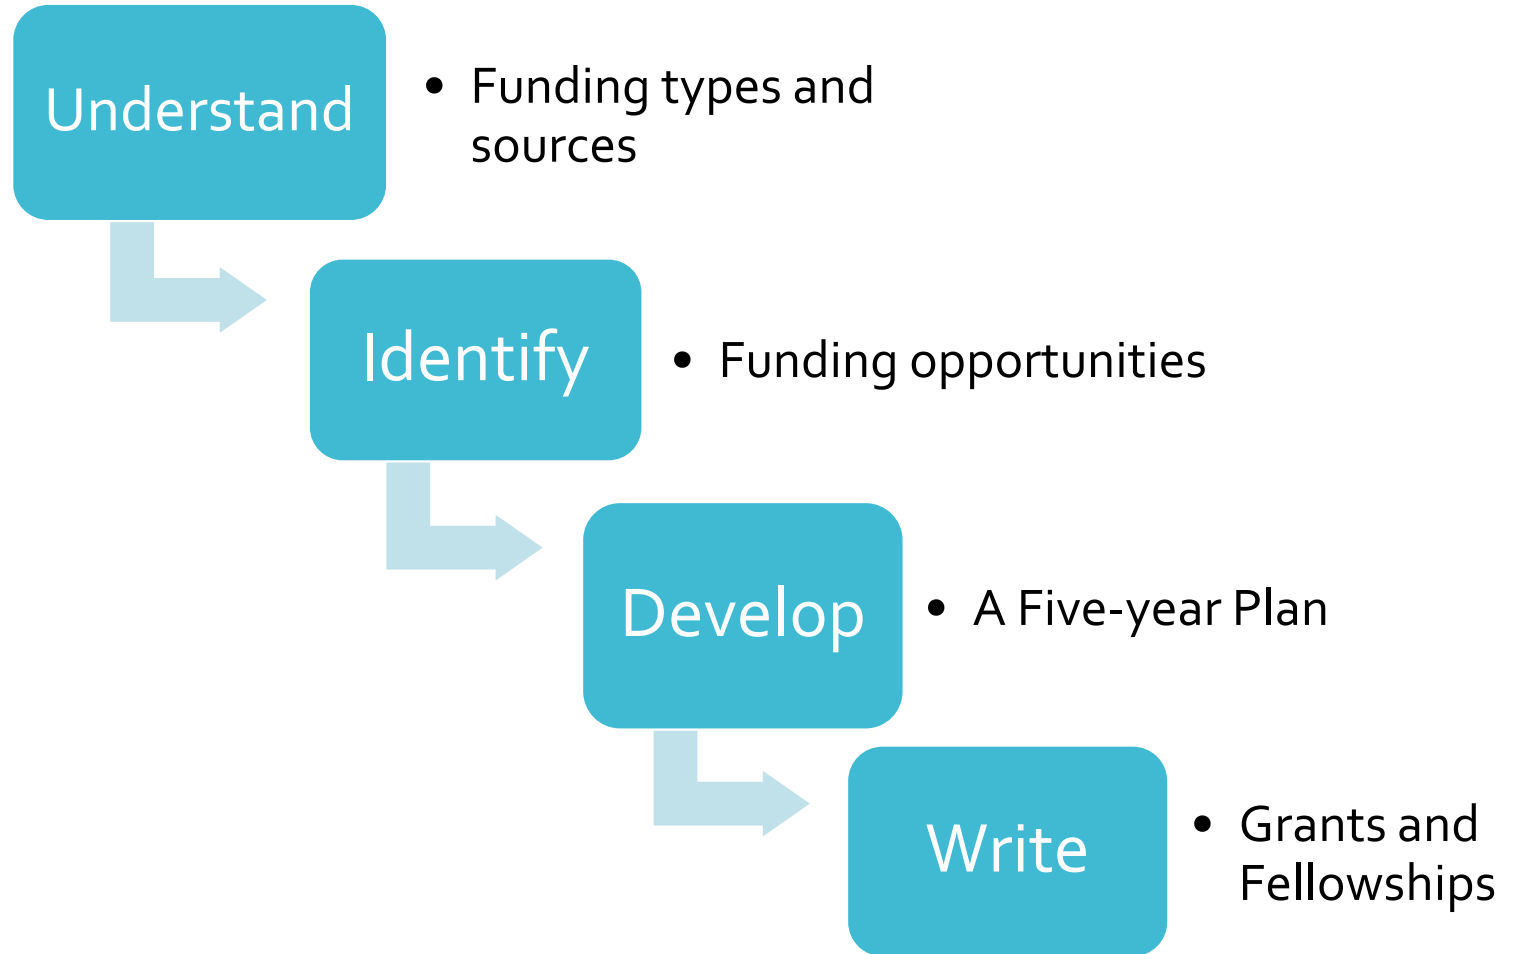

We provide research development assistance for:

- All disciplines, ranks, & titles of faculty
 - Grads and postdocs as time allows
- All project sizes
- All stages of development
- Research and/or education
- All agencies

What we don't assist with:

- Uploading & submission
- Post-award
- Foundations/Private (usually)
- Small/medium budgets

Goals of this presentation

Understand Graduate Student Funding:

Internal vs. External
Fellowships vs. Grants

What kinds of funding are available to support graduate students?

- Departmental or Grad Group Fellowships
- Competitive Campus Internal Fellowships
- Private Sponsors (foundations) grants and fellowships
- Federal and state grants and fellowships
- Teaching and Research Assistantships
- Institutional training grants
- Internships

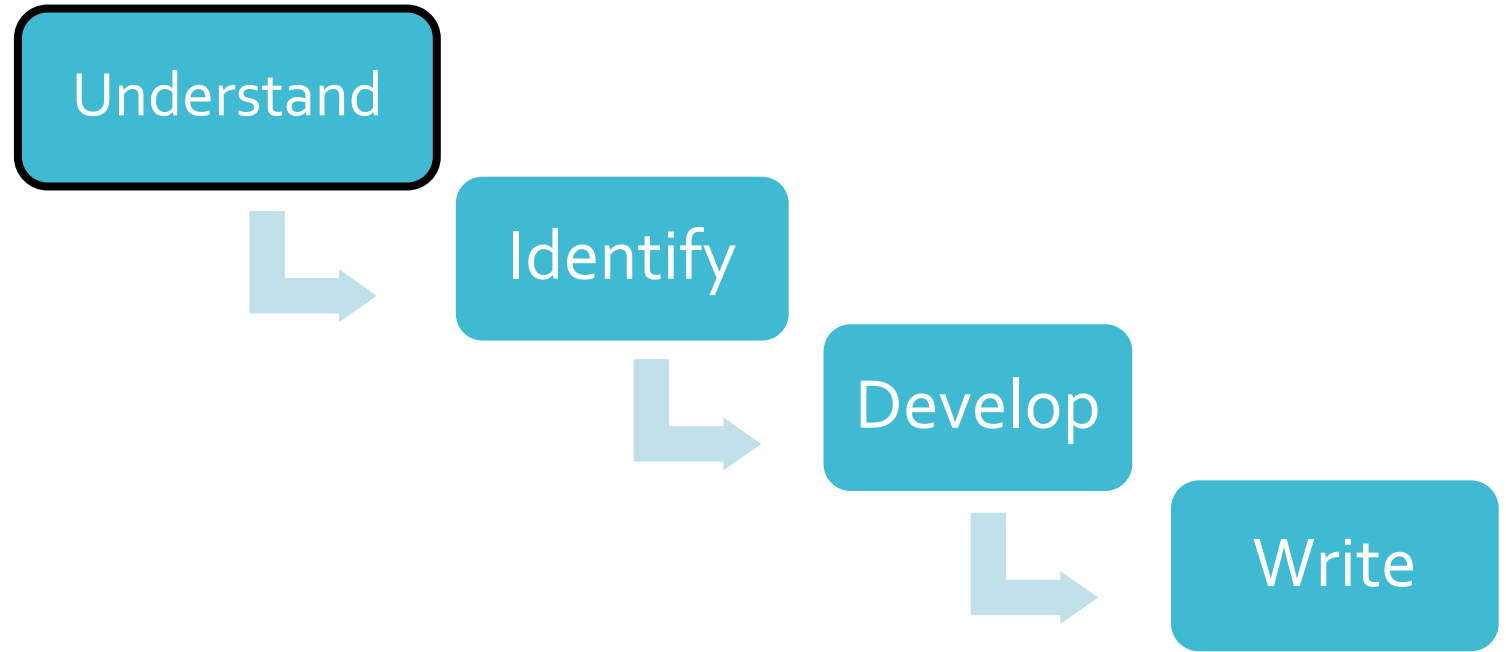

Understand Graduate Student Funding: Fellowships vs. Grants

Graduate Fellowships	Dissertation Fellowships	Post-doctoral Fellowships	Travel and Research Grants
Proposal submitted directly to sponsor, funds dispersed to individuals			Institution submits application and receives award
Identify past accomplishments	Description of research project	Clear outline of research project	Clear outline of research project
Demonstrate potential for future successes	Describe career path following completion	Describe how this fits into career plan	Describe how this fits into overall research project
Suggestion of long-term career plan	Clear timeline for dissertation completion	Clear timeline for project completion	Clear timeline and detailed budget
Availability of resources to ensure success	Availability of resources to complete project	Demonstrate path for independence	Availability of additional project resources
May require nomination	May require letter of recommendation	May require letter from advisor	May require submission by PI

These fellowships can be either need-based or merit-based

What is your role as a mentor?

Understand the types of funding available

- Become familiar with different funding mechanisms available to graduate students so that you can appropriately advise your students
- Create a community that encourages the discovery of funding opportunities
- Advocate for your students with funders in all situations (internal and external)

Each fall, Graduate Studies conducts an Internal Fellowship competition for continuing academic graduate students. This application is used to award fellowship funding for the upcoming academic year. For example, an application submitted in the fall of 2018 is for funding to be paid during the 2019-20 academic year. The funding period for the 2019-20 academic year is October 1, 2019, through June 30, 2020. A "continuing student" is a student who has already been officially admitted to UC Davis, is registered and enrolled in classes during the current academic year, and will be registered and enrolled during the academic year in which the funding will be paid.

Review Instructions and Apply

Notification of Decision: Official notification of UC Davis internal fellowship offers are sent directly to students via the e-mail address used in the online application. The first round of notifications will be e-mailed approximately 60 days after your fellowship deadline. Because fellowship offers are made in multiple rounds through October 1, you will not be notified if your application was unsuccessful.

Graduate Student Fellowships with Approaching Deadlines

Oct. 2 – National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) Graduate Fellowship Program (NGFP)

This one-year salaried fellowship administered by the Pacific Northwest Nuclear Lab places highly qualified graduate students and postdocs into year-long assignments across the NNSA to gain experience in areas such as nonproliferation, stockpile stewardship, and infrastructure & oversight. Fellows receive an annual salary of $53,300 ($63,550 for postdocs); hiring bonus of $4,000; medical benefits; tuition reimbursement (if eligible); training, professional development, & networking opportunities; and $10,000 travel/training allowance. Click here for more information.

Oct. 15 – NSF Astronomy and Astrophysics Postdoctoral Fellowships

The program supports researchers for a period of up to three years with fellowships that may be taken to eligible host institutions of their choice. The program is intended to recognize early-career investigators of significant potential and to provide them with experience in research and education that will establish them in positions of distinction and leadership in the scientific community. Click here for more information.

Oct. 21-25 – NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Program (GRFP)

The GRFP provides fellowships to individuals selected early in their graduate careers based on their demonstrated potential for significant research achievements in science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM) or in STEM education. Three years of support is provided by the program for graduate study that leads to a research-based master's or doctoral degree. Click here for more information.

Oct. 23 – Hertz Foundation Fellowship

The Hertz Graduate Fellowship Award is based on merit (not need) and consists of a cost-of-education allowance and a personal-support stipend. Eligible applicants for Hertz Fellowships must be students of the applied physical and biological sciences, mathematics, and engineering who are citizens or permanent residents of the United States of America. Click here for more information.

Oct. 23 – Mellon/ACLS Dissertation Completion Fellowships

ACLS invites applications for Mellon/ACLS Dissertation Completion Fellowships, which support a year of research and writing to help advanced graduate students in the humanities and related social sciences in the last year of PhD

Identifying appropriate funding mechanisms for different needs

- Subscribe to professional society and GradPathways listservs
- Train your departmental graduate advisor to disseminate subject-specific funding opportunities
- Encourage students to create calendar reminders to check GS website for new funding opportunities
- Create a curated search in Pivot that is appropriate for your group
- As a group, generate list of consistent, recurring funding opportunities and their due dates that are relevant to your students

MAKE A PLAN

Developing a five-year funding plan

Which funding opportunities are appropriate for which career stage?

Pre-doctoral fellowships

Developing a five-year funding plan

Roadmap of specific opportunities

- Determine individual need (stipend, tuition/fees, travel, research supplies, experiences, career goals) in different time periods
- Identify opportunities that may be appropriate to fund those needs for the next 2+ years
- Note the type of support and length of support for each funding opportunity
- Note application deadline and timeline of award notification
- Align applications with timeline and needs

Developing a five-year funding plan

Roadmap of specific opportunities

- Build in redundancy and contingency plans (multiple applications, TA, GSR)
- Make note of other activities that may compete with grant writing (conferences, exams, etc.)
- Identify and schedule periodic (quarterly, annual) training opportunities in grant-writing

NEH Collaborative Grants:

URL: <https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/collaborative-research-grants>

"Publication grants last one to three years and support the project toward completion of its publication goals. Publications can appear in traditional print or in digital form. Note that costs paid to publishers and subventions are not supported.

A Type 1 Convening Grant can be used to plan and prepare for a Type 2 Publication Grant in a subsequent year. A Type 1 grant is not, however, a prerequisite for a Type 2 grant. Collaborators who have done their planning and are ready to work toward completion and publication can apply directly for a Type 2 Publication grant."

Terms: No more than 100K in a single funding year. Funds may be requested to cover, where appropriate, salary replacement; compensation of collaborators, consultants, and research assistants; fringe benefits; and travel, lodging, and per diem costs. Indirect costs can be included.

Outcomes: Varied

Due Date: December 2019

Humanities Initiatives at Hispanic-Serving Institutions:

URL: <https://www.neh.gov/grants/education/humanities-initiatives-hispanic-serving-institutions>

Max Amount: 100K, 1-3 years

Synopsis: "NEH Humanities Initiatives at Hispanic-Serving Institutions help strengthen the teaching and study of the humanities by developing new humanities programs, resources, or courses, or by enhancing existing ones. Applicants are encouraged to draw on the knowledge of outside scholars who would contribute expertise and fresh insights to the project."

Terms: "Each project must be organized around a core topic or set of themes drawn from areas of study in the humanities such as history, philosophy, religion, literature, and composition and writing skills."

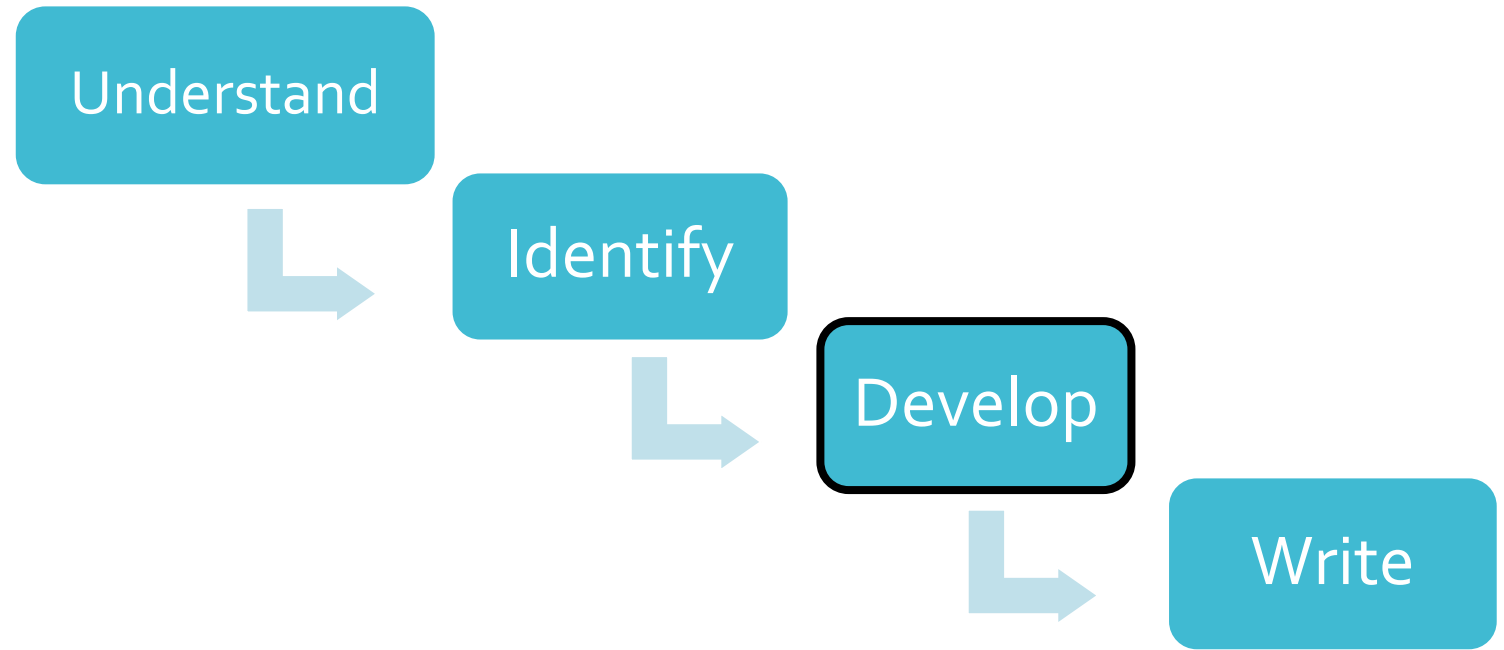

Outcomes: potential outcomes include the following:

- create opportunities for faculty members to study together, in order to improve their capacity to teach the humanities;
- help institutions create or enhance humanities resources for teaching, such as oral histories and historical or literary collections (projects incorporating podcasts, mapping tools, and other digital components are especially encouraged); and

What is your role as a mentor?

Developing a five-year funding plan

- Download, customize, or create a five-year plan template for your students
- Schedule group or individual meetings to discuss five-year plan
- Keep students accountable - help students with time management for all aspects of their graduate career

Writing compelling proposals

GOLDEN RULES

- Know your audience
- Make your pitch early and clearly

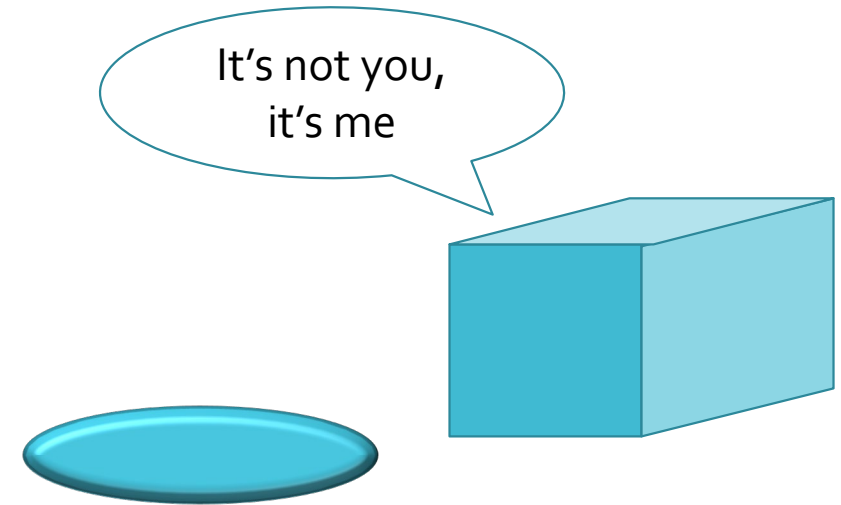

Writing compelling proposals

Know your audience

Aligning your Project with the Goals of the Program

- Determine what the sponsor wants
- Adopt a service attitude – how can your expertise match those objectives?

Grant programs do not exist to make you successful, rather your job is to make those programs successful

Writing compelling proposals

Know your audience

Aligning your Project with the Goals of the Program

- Identify the type of funding that is available from the sponsor
- Find the agency funding priorities, or at least your discipline's "grand challenges"
- Determine what has been funded previously
- Talk to someone knowledgeable of the program

Writing compelling proposals

Make your pitch early and clearly

Seasoned grant reviewers will admit to making up their minds on the very first page of the proposal , and rarely change their posture as they read the rest of the document.

Robert Porter, University of Tennessee

Writing compelling proposals

Make your pitch early and clearly

Heilmeier's Catechism

- What are you trying to do? Articulate your objectives using absolutely no jargon.
- How is it done today, and what are the limits of current practice?
- What's new in your approach and why do you think it will be successful?
- Who cares? If you're successful, what difference will it make?
- What are the risks and the payoffs?
- How much will it cost? How long will it take? What are the midterm and final "exams" to check for success?

Writing compelling proposals

Make your pitch early and clearly

The trifecta of fellowship applications

Writing compelling proposals

Special considerations for fellowships

The trifecta of fellowship applications

Person

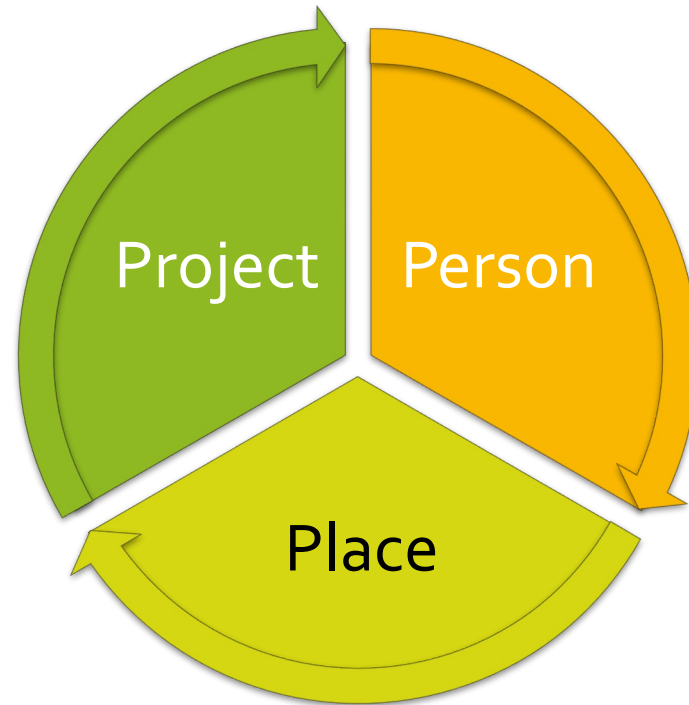

- What about your background qualifies you to do this work?
- How will this project contribute to your long-term development as a scholar and educator?
- How will completing this particular project help to establish you as a leader in your field?

Emphasis: You have something to give and something to gain from the support offered through this funding organization/program.

Writing compelling proposals

Special considerations for fellowships

The trifecta of fellowship applications

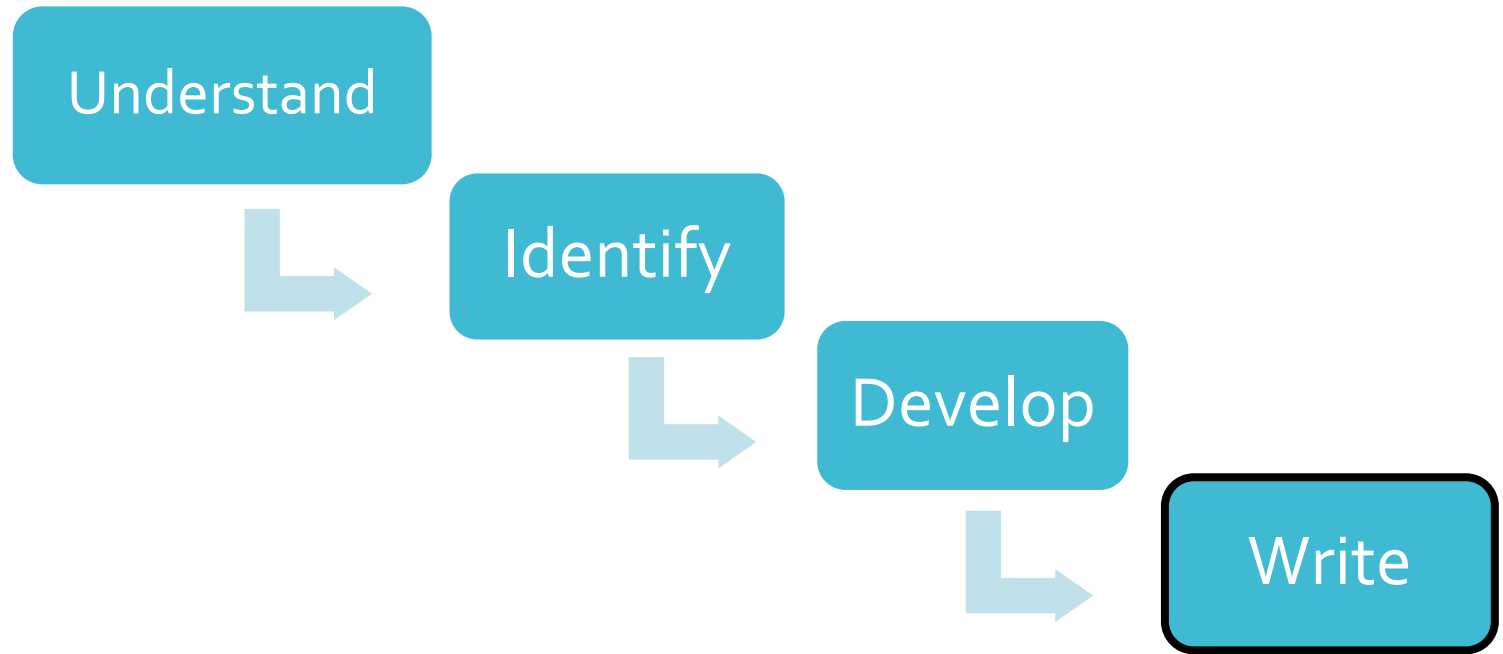

Place

- What institutional resources will help your research?
- What institutional resources will help your educational project?
- What institutional resources will help your professional development?

Emphasis: The impacts of the project you're planning will be greater at UC Davis than they would be if the same project were proposed by an equally qualified individual at a different institution.

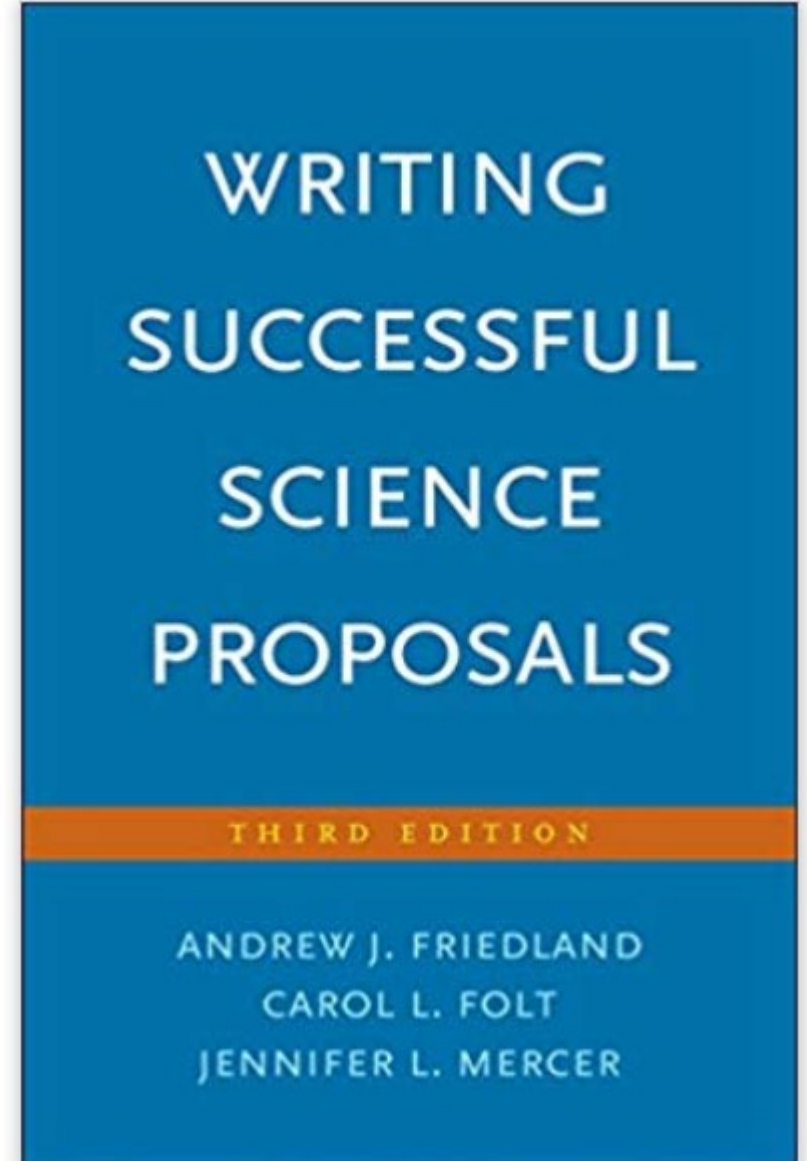

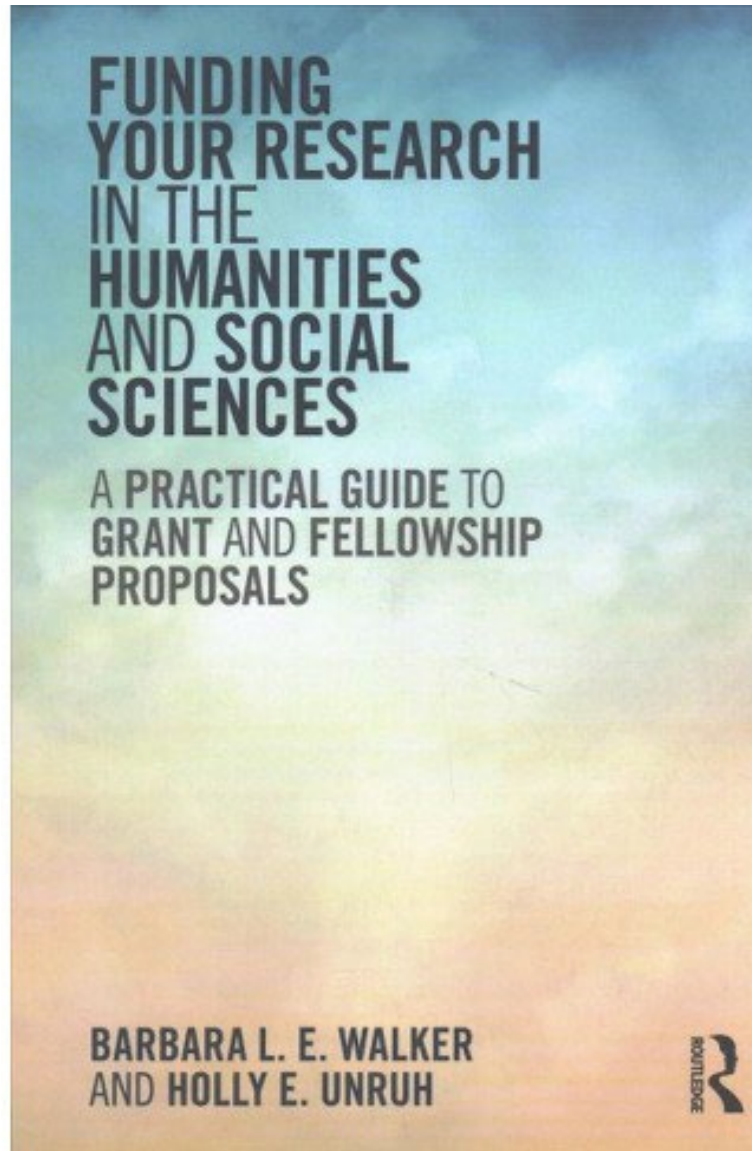

What is your role as a mentor?

Writing compelling grant proposals and fellowship applications

- Ask students to critique every grant proposal or personal fellowship you write
- Challenge students to write a two-page research proposal; allow group time to critique and provide feedback
- Provide students with templates and other grant writing resources (available on IRS team Box drive)
